TO RAISE $5,200 FOR YEARS EXPENSES

FIRST METHODISTS WILL CANVASS CONGREGATION SUNDAY.

Provide for Church Ensuing Twelve-Month—Brotherhood Dines, Then Holds Business Session.

A canvass to obtain approximately $5,200 to meet the anticipated expenses of the First Methodist church for the ensuing year as estimated in the church budget just completed, will be launched Sunday afternoon with at least fifty members in the campaign. Provisions and plans for the canvass and other church improvements were discussed following a chicken dinner to the First Methodist Brotherhood in the church basement last night. Sixty-five were seated at the banquet provided by the Ladies' Aid society of that church.

After the supper an informal business meeting was held to discuss new financial plans for the church. The campaign for the year's budget will be entered into by virtually every member of the church brotherhood if plans carry aright. Another innovation decided upon last night was the adoption of the duplex envelope now used by most of the other churches of the city.

The campaign for the $5,000 fund for the use of the church will begin at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the church. All members entering the canvass are expected to meet there. No canvass will be made at any of the church services that day, it has been announced by the Rev. G. S. Cox.

Many Discuss Plans.

A number of informal talks were made last night by members of the brotherhood. Dr. W. B. Christy spoke relative to church plans in general, while discussions relative to all churches in Maryville other than the First Methodist were entered into by the Rev. Robert L. Finch, pastor of the First Christian church; G. B. Roseberry, the Rev. S. B. Harkness, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Roy Curfman.

An address relative to plans of the Methodist church for the ensuing year was made by Edward Curfman, while the faults and difficulties of the church were explained by H. E. Wright. Mayor U. S. Wright also gave a general talk on the support of the churches.

The plans for the canvass were adopted by the brotherhood following these informal talks. Every member pledged himself to aid in the cause Sunday afternoon. The general organization committee is composed of C. C. Corwin, S. H. Kemp, H. E. Wright, J. R. Wray and Edward Curfman.

Free Textbooks.

A library of 1,000 volumes was distributed among the Maryville schools for use of the pupils of the first, second, third and fourth grades. These are the first of the free textbooks voted last spring by the people of the district. Next year two more grades will be added, and after that two grades more, making in all eight grades of the grammar school. The books were stamped with the school district stamp. The books are elementary geographies, elementary arithmetics, elementary languages, primers, first readers, second readers, third readers, fourth readers, speller, first music, second music, pimary writing manual, fourth grade writing manual.

To Visit in Nevada.

Mrs. J. W. Innes and daughter, Virginia Elizabeth, of Nevada, Mo., who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Innes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Allen, left yesterday for their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Innes' sister, Mrs. L. D. Gabbert of Eureka, Cal., who is visiting in Maryville and will spend several weeks in Nevada.

Violates City Laws.

E. Williams was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and a like amount for begging on the streets, in police court this morning. He was arrested last night a few hours after alighting in Maryville. The entire expense to Mr. Williams amounted to $22.20.

Miss Louise Keppel of Nebraska City will arrive in Maryville tomorrow to visit Miss Kathryn Kuchs.

New Pastor of Buchanan Street Church

THE REV. J. H. HUBBARD.

That his congregation and other residents of Maryville and the county may know the Rev. John H. Hubbard of Monroe City, who will come to this city next week to become pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church, a sketch of his life and work is given by him, at the request of The Democrat-Forum. While Mr. Hubbard has been loath to tell of his work, the Rev. J. D. Randolph, who he succeeds, speaks highly of his successor and of his standing in this conference.

Mr. Hubbard will not be enabled to come here before the first part of next week, so will not speak before the congregation next Sunday. If Mr. Randolph is called to his new charge at Central church, Fayette, prior to Sunday, some member of the Normal faculty will probably be in the Buchanan Street pulpit.

Mr. Hubbard was born and reared in the northern part of Macon county, where his parents had moved a few years prior to his birth. The Hubbard family are old residents of Missouri, his grandfather having moved to Randolph county in 1825 from Kentucky. His home was one of the first preaching places in that county, services being held for years right in the Hubbard residence by the early settlers of that part of the state.

It is an old Methodist family, five generations of Hubbards having professed that form of religion. Young Hubbard, now pastor of the Maryville church, became a Methodist when a mere boy. When 19 years old he was licensed to preach. Soon afterward he joined the Missouri conference, in which he has been since that time.

He was sent to Excelsior Springs ten years ago to become pastor of a church which was in great peril from a heavy indebtedness. He left after a four-years pastorate with the indebtedness on the church building entirely removed and containing a new pipe organ and other improvements.

Mr. Hubbard was appointed presiding elder of the Chillicothe district of the Methodist church, South, in 1908, which position he held until two years ago, when he became pastor of the Monroe City church, which he now leaves to come to Maryville. While he was edler a district parsonage was purchased in Chillicothe and other improvements made.

He bears the distinction of being the only man to have spent eighteen years in one district, that being entirely in the Chillicothe section.

SUBMITS PEACH EXHIBIT.

Maryville Resident Starts Contest in Horticultural Line.

J. R. Croy, 137 East Fourth street, hereby issues a challenge for anyone in Maryville to grow more peaches to the square inch than he has this summer. Mr. Croy, who, by the way of distinction, is an uncle to Homer Croy, the gifted writer, brought into the office this morning seven inches of peach limb. But the important part is that those seven inches contained ten fine seedling drupes, the like of which couldn't be surpassed, though possibly equalled.

Mr. Croy's peach trees are situated on low ground, subject to every frost that happens this way, yet has fruit almost every year, he said. The trees from which the many specimens came were froze to death two years ago. The sprouts resulting bore this year's product.

Renew Band Concerts.

The weekly band concert has returned to Maryville after a short vacation. It was joyfully received last night, as attested by the crowd which lined up on the court house lawn and the curbing of the square. The encore was not lacking nor unheeded by the band men. The opening piece, which was a march, "Brothers in Arms," and that tuneful waltz "Isle D'Amour," known to all despite its youth, received the greater applause apparently from the outdoor auditors.

It is planned to continue the weekly concerts for several weeks, or as long as favorable weather lasts.

To Visit at Fairfax.

Miss Besse Porter left this morning for Fairfax to spend the week end visiting her cousins, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Findlay.

Home to Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tobin and daughter of DeQueen, Ark., who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Tobin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tobin, have returned to their home.

MISSIONARY WORKER HERE.

Resident Worker Sent by Baptist Board of State Missions.

Miss Eula Jackson of Kansas City, who is employed by the Missouri State Baptist board of missions, has taken up a residence in Maryville for the next six months to work with the church and its pastor, Rev. Lewis M. Hale, as a missionary worker.

Miss Jackson came here from Cape Girardeau, where she spent a year past in a similar work. Her work is confined entirely to normal school towns and includes not only mission work but Bible instruction, teaching of night Bible classes for those unable to attend day meetings and social work. While here she will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burris, 107 North Buchanan street.

CALDWELLS STILL WINNING.

Took Many Premiums at the Iowa State Fair, and Also the Minnesota State Fair.

C. D. and E. F. Caldwell's Aberdeen Angus show herd have been taking the lion's share of prizes at the Minnesota state fair, held at Hamline this week, and also at the Iowa state fair, held at Des Moines recently.

At the Minnesota state fair, out of sixteen possible firsts they won eleven and took five championships out of a possible six. There were three classes in which Caldwells did not show, which would really give them all but two possible firsts.

Among their most important winnings at Des Moines were the grand champion cow by Eritus, the senior champion cow by Erito C., a sister of Eritus, and the junior champion cow by Eritus. Out of fourteen possible firsts the Caldwell herd won eight, and of six possible championships the herd won three.

Kemp, the fine young bull belonging to the Caldwells, and one of the greatest Angus animals in America, died of acute indigestion when the herd was being taken from St. Joseph to Des Moines, Ia. The animal was taken from the car at Conception and buried. The loss of Kemp is keenly felt by the Caldwells at this time, as they had prepared to show him in the senior yearling classes at the fairs this fall.

Mrs. Katherine Miller and 3-year-old daughter, Leta, returned last night to her home at Buchanan and Second streets, after a three weeks visit with friends and relatives in Camden Point and Kansas City.

Prof. P. O. Landon spent the day at Elmo on business today.

STUDENTS ARRIVE

NORMAL VANGUARD IS HERE TO PREPARE FOR COMING TERM.

FACULTY IS ENLARGED

Twenty-Six Instructors Will Care for 300 Students—A. J. Cauffield Heads New Geography Department.

The vanguard of the Maryville State Normal students for the ensuing term has arrived in the city. With the arrival of every train on both the Burlington and the Wabash railroads the advance body is swelled. Although the fall term will not formally begin until Tuesday, many of the anticipated 300 or more students are coming early to "get settled" before school opens.

With the opening of the 1914-1915 term will come several changes and improvements in the Normal and the faculty. The new department of geography will be under the supervision of Prof. A. J. Cauffield of Tyrell, O. Prof. Cauffield is a graduate of both the Chicago and Wisconsin universities, and this summer has been taking an advanced course in Columbia university at New York City.

Return for Work.

Prof. M. G. Neale of Columbia university, New York, will head the department of education, of which President Ira Richardson has heretofore supervised. While this does not add a new department, the employment of another instructor will give more time to President Richardson for the general supervision of the State Normal, and insure better instruction facilities.

Robert S. Black of Union, Mo., has just been selected to head the department of physics and chemistry made vacant this summer by the leave of absence granted to E. L. Harrington, who is now studying at Harvard college at Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Black is a graduate of Drury college at Springfield and of the University of Missouri at Columbia. He will arrive here prior to the opening of the Normal Tuesday.

Prof. M. G. Neale, head of the department of education and training, who has been away from Maryville since the close of the summer term on a vacation, will return soon and will be ready to take up the Normal work promptly.

Professor Cauffield arrived in Maryville today from his home in Ohio to assume his new post at the head of the department of geography. Other instructors are now returning daily.

Improve Grounds.

Several improvements in the grounds and buildings of the State Normal here also have been made since the regular term closed last spring and during the summer term. It is believed the Normal will open this season with not only a larger attendance, but with a faculty unexcelled for properly training those enrolled in the various branches.

The approach of the fall Normal term likewise brings added activity around boarding and rooming houses throughout the city. The usual placards are going up and rooms that have been idle for several weeks, except for an occasfonal spider spinning his web therein, now are being fitted up in "apple pie order" to care for the several hundred students.

No Music Head Yet.

The incomplete faculty for the ensuing term is:

Ira Richardson, president.

M. G. Neale, director department of education and training.

Beulah Bruner, supervising principal of the training school.

Robert S. Black, physics and chemistry.

Mary M. Hughes, assistant in education.

Fannie Hope, grammar grade supervisor.

Carrie Hopkins, intermediate grade supervisor.

Mildred Miller, kindergarten-primary supervisor.

LaRue Kemp, instructor in music of the training school.

H. P. Swinehart, English and German and assistant in physical education.

Beatrix Winn, assistant in English and physical education.

Harry A. Miller, reading and public speaking.

C. A. Hawkins, latin.

T. H. Cook, American history and government.

George H. Colbert, mathematics.

Katherine Helwig, assistant in mathematics.

Hettie M. Anthony, home economics.

Myra Hull, assistant in home economics.

E. L. Harrington, physics and chemistry.

R. A. Kinnaird, agriculture.

A. J. Cauffield, geography.

J. E. Cameron, biology and agriculture.

Harriet Day, art.

Walter Hanson, manual training and coach of athletic teams.

W. A. Rickenbrode, bookkeeping and penmanship.

C. E. Wells, library economy.

No instructor has yet been announced for music and European history and government. Professor P. O. Landon of the Maryville Conservatory of Music, who has heretofore been head of the music department at the Normal, will be compelled to devote his entire time to the Conservatory. It is believed an instructor for music will be announced prior to the school opening.

CENTENARIAN DIES

MRS. ALMA CROWHURST DIES AFTER PASSING CENTURY MARK.

WAS IN GOOD HEALTH

Except for Dimmed Sight Aged Woman Retained Faculties—Funeral is Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. Alma Crowhurst, who passed the century mark December 10, last, died at noon today at her home, in the northwest part of the city. Death was due to senility. She was the sole centenarian for years in Maryville.

The funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Lewis M. Hale. The body will be interred at Miriam cemetery.

Mrs. Crowhurst was born in Ryarsh, Kent, England, December 10, 1813. Her maiden name was Almyra Frenlin. She was married at her home to Alfred Crowhurst, on November 24, 1837. For many years they made their home in England, living at Offham, where Mr. Crowhurst operated a fruit plantation and also a grocery store.

Mrs. Crowhurst leaves three daughters, Miss Polly Crowhurst, who has made her home with her mother, Mrs. Martin Roots and Mrs. W. B. Frost.

Mr. Crowhurst died about twenty years ago in Maryville.

Observed Anniversary.

On the occasion of Mrs. Crowhurst's hundredth birthday anniversary she was given an ovation by the club women and a number of her friends in the city who presented her with $100 as a remembrance. She was a most remarkable woman, retaining clear faculties, with the exception of a slight dimness of sight, and enjoyed reasonably good health until a few weeks ago. She was a woman of splendid education and genial ways, taking an interest in the things of the present with an unusual aptitude. Mrs. Crowhurst was a member of the First Baptist church, and at all times was a zealous worker and present at all services until her feebleness caused her to remain at home.

Gets 1915 Chautauqua.

It is sealed and settled that Hopkins is to have a Chautauqua again in 1915, the talent to be furnished by the Keith-Vawter system, the same company that has furnished the talent during the past two seasons.

Hopkins is among the few towns this year that "paid out," and it is a fine tribute to the intelligence and good taste of the people there.

A representative of the system promises a better program than ever next year, and says that there will be nothing at the command of the company too good for Hopkins, one of the banner Chautauqua towns of the state.

Attends I. O. O. F. Meet.

Chester Bennett, city clerk, left this morning for Forest City to attend a semi-annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Odd Fellows association there today. W. G. Sawyers and A. F. Harvey, who, with Bennett, were chosen delegates from the local lodge a few days ago, will not attend.

An all-day program has been arranged by the Forest City lodge, starting with a band concert at 10 o'clock this morning.

Sues to Collect $900.

A suit for the collection of $900 and interest since March, 1907, on a promissory note said to have been given by the defendant to the deceased, was filed in circuit court this morning by John A. Fields, temporary administrator of the estate of Patience Ellis against O. M. Dysart, G. L. Dysart and L. M. Dysart.

Leaves for College.

Herschel Colbert 223 East Seventh street, left this morning for Columbia, where he will next week enter the University of Missouri. He is a senior in the school of journalism there. Mr. Colbert has lived in Maryville for the last few years, spending his vacation each summer on the news staff of The Democrat-Forum.

Sent Out 89 Head of Horses.

Charles H. Roach shipped eighty-nine head of horses to the St. Louis market on Thursday. Some of the horses will be sold to the British for use in the war.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD.

Mrs. Dawson Died Sunday at Home of Daughter in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Dawson, the widow of Henry Dawson, former residents of Maryville, died early Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leona E. Cherry of Los Angeles, Cal. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dawson leaves four children, William M. Dawson, Mrs. Cherry, Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain and Dr. J. B. Dawson, all residents of southern California. The family resided in Maryville for many years and are very well known here. During their residence here they occupied a home on North Main street. Mr. Dawson died several years ago, and after the family had moved to Los Angeles. Mrs. Dawson had been in poor health for some time, and for five weeks past had been critically ill.

NOT ALWAYS SANITARY.

Health Board Recounts How Rural Community Can Endanger Health.

The oft repeated statement that the health of a community is an index to its state of civilization is one which should interest each and every citizen. The deviation from perfect health as regards the preventable diseases is due to the fact that the people do not fully realize the cause and effect—therefore the lack of the earnest co-operation of the laity with individual effort.

Whenever is mentioned one of our unwonted diseases our minds naturally revert to the undesirable conditions which exist in some of our crowded cities, but no less are we to respect the rural home with its environments as a breeding place of disease. On the average farm, though surrounded by those magnificent gifts of nature, namely, an abundance of sunshine and fresh air, there are existing conditions that if the truth of the same were presented to the occupants in an undesirable manner, would produce great consternation and undoubtedly would stimulate interest in self-preservation.

How often have we seen in such places the unprotected accumulation of filth where the ordinary house fly is permitted to freely spend his hours of leisure and immediately traverses the short distance to the convenient utensils of the ordinary household where he very energetically bespecks everything in sight and is even admitted to that ever-pleasing retreat of the human stomach, the dining room, and there the edibles produced by the efforts of all nature are contaminated for human consumption, for this small individual is no respecter of persons, and, like a naughty child, little effort does he make to wipe his dirty feet before coming indoors.

Little is one aware when some typhoid carrier has come along and, together with existing conditions of an unsanitary privy, this nefarious pest is given the privilege of transporting bits of infected matter with astonishing celerity to the least expected places.

The frequently unkempt conditions of the average barn yard are not so amazing, but we view with horror the convenient well from which the household drinking water is supplied, located in a close by ravine, which is at a lower level and freely accepts the entire drainage from such conditions. When from such a well the unsuspecting individual partakes of the cooling draughts of nature's gift, so long as the taste or odor is not noticeable it is satisfying. Little does he realize the myriads, even to the millions, of bacteria he is consuming from the presence of this untold sewage contamination, and, too, this water is utilized in the washing of utensils from which dairy supplies are contaminated for widespread distribution frequently resulting in outbreaks little short of an epidemic.

In our cities the existing unsanitary conditions are eagerly guarded by the general health officer and his assistants, but the question of rural health and sanitation is up to the village physician to whom such matters for advice are referred. A small amount of investigation on his part concerning the environments of the ordinary household into which he is called, with a few suggestions and with due respect on the part of the recipients of such information our general public health should steadily improve.

The prince shot Enver Pasha in the leg."

THE MERRY-GO-ROUND.

Some really weighty subjects are left for a reporter to decide. The other day a woman gave in her name to a reporter thusly: "My name is Mrs. Mary Smith, but I've been divorced from James Smith and you can just put it in the paper any way you want to."

Life in Missouri isn't so bad. Out in California the people are to vote this fall on forty-eight propositions—twenty-two constitutional amendments, seventeen initiatives, four bonding acts, four referendum measures and one concurrent resolution.

Casting thought on clothes—at the recent convention of chiefs of police in Milwaukee, they had on the program for discussion "Women's Dress." One of the wisest chiefs of the bunch muffled all the hammers by this speech. "It is utterly foolish to discuss women's clothes as clothes. Besides, while we are talking the women will have changed their style of dress completely. I know—I'm married."

Every one knows Ed Williams has the w. k. Chesterfield beat to bits when it comes to being properly polite, particularly in the chauffeur capacity. The other day while driving along a country road, he met a farmer with a rather skittish horse. Mr. Williams at once stopped the car, got out and was working with some of the machinery by the time the farmer reached the car. "Say, young man what you doin?" he yelled.

"I was just going to take the car apart and, hide it in the grass until you got by," was the polite answer.

Prof. P. O. Landon had several grafanolas on exhibition in his booth at the county fair last week and during the day would give musical programs. One afternoon Miss Grace Sturm, who was operating the machine noticed a very attentive listener in the crowd and put on several especially good records which the woman seemed to enjoy greatly. Finally Miss Sturm asked the woman how she liked the music and if she had a machine in her home. "Yes," was the assent.

"What kind," asked Miss Sturm.

"Singer."

Before Warren R. Jackson, the most recent benedict in the Maryville bunch took to honeymooning, he was quite a musician. On one occasion while he was visiting at his home in St. Joseph at the same time his grandmother was there, he and his brother thought it would bring back grandma's sweetheart days, if they would give her a serenade. Along with several other young men, they gave a mandolin and guitar concert which would rival a symphony. Morning came and nobody mentioned the concert. Unable to wait any longer W. R. finally asked, "Grandma, did you hear some music last night?"

"Yes, but if it hadn't been for the noisy street cars, I could have slept and wouldn't have minded it at all."

NO PROSPECT OF PEACE IN EUROPE

President Wilson Told Allies Will Fight to End.

Washington, Sept. 11.—There is no present prospect of peace in Europe through diplomacy. President Wilson himself sat at rest rumors that peace measures were in the making by revealing that no intimation had been conveyed to him officially from any quarter of a readiness on the part of one or more of the belligerents to make peace.

The day's developments emphasized that Great Britain, France and Russia were grimly determined to make no peace until they had decisively beaten Germany and Austria. Great Britain's position was explained in detail at London by Sir Edward Grey to Ambassador Page, who made a long report to President Wilson.

The British foreign secretary declared England had not sought war, but since it was forced on it, it was irrevocably bent on crushing forever the dangers of German militarism to the world.

Sir Edward also referred to the spoliation by Germany of the neutral territory of Belgium and pointed out that the allies would expect redress for that action.

TURKEY ABROGATES ALL RESTRICTIONS

Ottoman Government Cuts the Powers' Strings.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Rustem Bey, the Turkish ambassador, was advised by his government that all conventions between the powers and Turkey conferring special privileges or restricting the sovereignty of the porte have been abrogated. The ambassador made this announcement:

"A cablegram to the Turkish ambassador from the Ottoman minister of foreign affairs states that by imperial irade the Ottoman government has abrogated as from the first of October next the conventions known as the capitulations restricting the sovereignty of Turkey in her relations with certain powers. All privileges and immunities accessory to these conventions or issuing therefrom are equally repealed. Having thus freed itself from what was an intolerable obstacle to all progress in the empire, the imperial government had adopted as the basis of its relations with the other powers the general principles of international law."

In announcing receipt of the cablegram the Turkish ambassador said: "This war is Turkey's opportunity."

No intimation was given by the ambassador whether the action foreshadowed war on Great Britain, without whose consent in the past no such radical action would have been attempted.

PANIC IN AUSTRIA

CITIZENS OF DUAL MONARCHY THREATEN LIFE OF COUNTRY.

TRADE AT STANDSTILL

London Correspondent Paints Dark Picture of Empire—Says Famine Menaces Vienna.

The correspondent of the London Daily Mail in Milan, who has lately been in Vienna, draws a gloomy picture of that empire. He says:

"Panic rules in Austria. The great unwieldly and bankrupt empire, dragged reluctantly at the heels of Germany, is in a state of desperate muddle and fear. Her armies, half hearted at first and now openly mutinous, are beaten back at every point by the Russians.

"The policy of mixing in each company men of the different races which compose the empire has had the result that there is no esprit de corps in the army. The men were driven into trains at the point of the bayonet and scores were shot by their officers to terrorize their fellows into obedience.

Is Bankrupt.

"While the Russian avalanche drives on Bosnia is in open revolt and Treiste paralyzed by fear of an attack from sea. Austria is bankrupt, trade at a standstill and thousands of business men ruined by a war which they hate.

"While the harvest remains ungathered, Vienna is menaced by a famine and prices are steadily rising. In resentment the population has turned against the foreigner, and Serbs have been torn to pieces in the streets. Two Russian newspaper correspondents were shot by the police and five foreign journalists are in prison.

"In utter fear the government has begun to fortify Vienna and arrangements have been made to flood large tracts of low-lying land around the city. Riots have occurred in many towns and to the terrors of the Cossacks and the Serb will be added those of revolution and famine."

Scores Germans.

Whether Germany has played the game fairly by her only ally, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Post, will be decided by historians in years to come.

"At present," adds the correspondent, "Austria is badly in need of those heavy siege batteries and that army corps which she sent to help Germany on the French frontiers, while all we hear of German help to Austria is the one German division now retreating toward Cracow before the pressure of the Russian advance.

"The conflict on the Russian front must shortly terminate in one of two ways—either the destruction or capitulation of Austria's main armies. The appearance of the German forces merely has postponed the inevitable denouement, probably not for more than two days.

"The Russians have crossed the Vistula to meet the German division, which came to protect the Austrian left flank, but the German move has only delayed the encircling movement of the Russians for a short time. This obstacle now has been overcome."

VIENNA DENIES RUSS VICTORIES

Asserts Lemberg Evacuated Without Previous Fighting.

EMPEROR'S HEALTH IS GOOD.

Four Thousand Servian Prisoners Pass Through Budapest on Way to Be Encamped With 20,000 Russians at Essetergom.

Manchester, Mass., Sept. 11.—Dr. Konstantin Theodor Dumba, Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, made public the following wireless message from the foreign secretary of his government, Count von Berchtold, in Vienna:

"Emperor continues to enjoy best of health.

"Another battle begun in Lemberg district. Russians persist in spreading false reports about alleged Russian victories intending to relieve repressed public feeling in France.

"Energetic protest of kaiser to President Wilson against barbarism, use of dumdum bullets, calls forth here warmest response.

"Four thousand Servian prisoners of war passed Budapest on way to Essetergom, to be encamped with 20,000 Russians already there.

"Austrian official correspondence bureau denies energetically statement of official Russian paper, Vestnik, about alleged great victories of Russians in Lemberg; states once more Austrians evacuated Lemberg without previous fighting. Vestnik's news about 70,000 prisoners made by Russians on that occasion also pure invention. As to Vestnik's denial of Auffenberg's victory, refer to respective official announcements of Austrian military headquarters. Vestnik will by these lies not succeed to hide our victories."

To this the ambassador added:

"The above mentioned official announcement mentioned the Russians driven across the Bug river, suffering heavy losses and losing 150 guns."

AUSTRIANS LEAVING CRACOW

Rifle Club Members Refuse to Aid In Defense of Their City.

London, Sept. 11.—A dispatch from Petrograd says:

Consternation prevails at Cracow. The evacuation of the town has begun. The Austrian authorities are trying to induce the members of the local rifle club to remain and assist in the defense of the place. Many, however, have resigned their memberships because of sympathy with Russia.

Others urged that it was useless to suffer the bombardment of Cracow when there was no chance of Austrian success.

Cracow has been described as the main rallying point for the Austrian and German forces in Galicia. It is the old capital of the kingdom of Poland. It is a city of about 100,000 population and is about 160 miles west of Lemberg.

POPE MAKES PEACE APPEAL

Benedict XV. Issues Encyclical to Episcopacy of World.

Rome, Sept. 11.—Pope Benedict XV. in an encyclical to the episcopacy of the world urges peace and brotherhood among the nations. In this encyclical the pope says:

"We exhort most earnestly those who govern the destiny of the nations that they should bring themselves to a frame of mind whereby they may put aside all dissensions contrary to the welfare of humanity."

Holland May Not Remain Neutral Land

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—Former Minister of War Colyn, discussing in De Jonge, the main organ of the Young Men's Christian association, the probable remodelling of the map of Europe, as a result of the war, says it may be necessary for Holland to renounce its neutrality in order to have a vote in the concert of the powers.

Bombs Are Dropped In Kaiser's Camp.

London, Sept. 11.—A Reuter telegram quotes a German newspaper as saying that it learns that the German general staff and Emperor William are now at Luxemberg, where the Uhlans are camping in 700 tents. A French aeroplane succeeded in dropping four bombs, which, however, did no serious damage.

German Sailors Arrive at Brussels.

London, Sept. 11.—A dispatch from Ghent says:

"It is estimated that from 30,000 to 40,000 German sailors have arrived during the last two days at Brussels. This indicates that the German reserve is completely mobilized."

France Searching For Reservists.

Bordeaux, Sept. 11.—Minister of War Millerand has sent a circular note to the generals commanding the several districts of France ordering them to institute a vigorous search for all persons who have failed to respond for military service as required.

Many Wounded Arrive.

Rome, Sept. 11.—The Tribuna's Vienna correspondent states that 20,000 wounded arrived in Vienna. About a third of these are Germans. Budapest and Prague also report the arrival of large numbers of wounded.

Temporary Bridge Put In.

A temporary bridge has been built on the Maryville-Barnard road about a mile and a half south of the Davis school house, or near the old Ellis place. The bridge has been in a dangerous condition for some time. The reason for putting in a temporary bridge is on account of a proposition being up of straightening the road in that vicinity. If the plan goes through a concrete culvert will be built.

Revive Story Telling.

A revival of the art of story telling is the object and hope of a story tellers' league which has been started in New York City. As a personal accomplishment, the art of story telling and ease in conversation is very much desired, and the organization of such a club will appeal to women of leisure. The development of the art as a profession will equally interest many women. Professional story telling in the school, library, play ground, settlement and hospital is one of the most remunerative positions, and there are many openings in the larger cities. The primary object of the club started in New York City first was to develop the art in the home and school, and the charter members hope to make it a national league.

Well Attended.

A farewell social was given last night at the Buchanan Street Methodist church, in honor of the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Randolph. About one hundred attended and the time was spent informally. Miss Genie Aley gave several readings which were very enjoyable. Before the evening closed a luncheon of ices, cakes and coffee was served.

Miss Elizabeth Sawyers also gave a reading relative to the subject of the afternoon, after which a social time was enjoyed and refreshments served by the social committee, which included Mrs. Charles Wadley, Mrs. Will Scott and Miss Jessie Parcher.

Condon-Armstrong.

Condon, 517 West First street, her daughter, La Vera Myrtle, plighted her troth to Mr. N. Wesley Armstrong, while the words of the marriage service were read by the Rev. Robert Lyle Finch, pastor of the First Christian church. The ceremony took place in the living room, which was attractively decorated with ferns. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Grace Langan. The utmost simplicity marked every detail of the wedding, which was witnessed by only the members of the family. The bride wore her traveling gown, a coat suit of navy blue cloth, and with it was worn a black velvet toque, and she carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. Armstrong and his bride left on a honeymoon trip of a month, which will include a visit with relatives in Kansas City, a stay with Mrs. Armstrong's uncle, Judge John Tompson and family of Phoenix, Ariz., and a visit at Los Angeles with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Condon. After October 15 the newly weds will be at home at Hayward, Cal. Mr. Armstrong is deputy postmaster of Hayward.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

THREE BIG BATTLES IN PROGRESS

Germans Are Driven Further Back.

IN EXHAUSTED STATE.

Fiercest Struggle Raging Is Against French Center.

ENGLISH OPPOSE TEUTON RIGHT

Kaiser's Government Silent on Fighting In West.

London, Sept. 11.—The crucial battle of the war in France has not yet reached any decisive result. Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces, reported that the Germans had been driven back all along the line; that the British had crossed the river Marne; that the Germans had suffered severely, and that their men were supposed to be in a very exhausted condition.

The French official statement asserted the allies had pushed the Germans back about thirty-seven miles.

Three million men is the number estimated to be engaged actively and as reserves, and three great battles at least are in progress.

Hardest Attack on French Center.

Probably the fiercest struggle is against the French center, between Rheims and Verdun, while the British army is contesting the second hard-fought engagement against the German right. The Germans are believed to be still attacking the French right, from Verdun to Nancy.

Lesser fighting is in progress in Alsace, from which province the Germans appear to have withdrawn a part of their army, and the French are taking advantage of this opening.

The great battle may continue for days, when it is remembered that smaller operations in Manchuria, in which hundreds of thousands only were concerned, lasted a fortnight.

Fighting Twenty-five Days.

The German western armies have been fighting almost continuously for twenty-five days, and, until the last phase of the campaign, on the offensive. Field Marshal French's view that they are becoming exhausted finds ready credence among the military experts here.

A German official wireless dispatch says that no report has been made public in Berlin of the events in France for the last three days.

From Holland comes the news that 60,000 German reinforcements are marching south. These troops may have an effect upon the tide of battle, but there is reason to believe the allied armies also are receiving a counter-balancing accession of strength.

German Navy Not Idle.

That the German navy has not been without enterprise is revealed in the admiralty announcement that the British cruiser Pathfinder was destroyed by a German submarine, not by a mine as was first supposed. The German craft, which ventured so far from its base, is given credit for its enterprise.

Another mine disaster, the victim of which was the tramp steamer Ottawa, has been added to the list, and the advisability of closing the North sea to merchant shipping is being discussed.

Belgians Take Aggresive.

An Ostend message says the Belgian army at Antwerp has taken the aggressive and driven the Germans back to the environs of Louvain. Another message says the Belgians have defeated a garrison composed of the landstrum at Aerschot, a short distance from Louvain.

The latest British casualty list brings the army losses to nearly 19,000 men, exclusive of the last three days' fighting. Yet this big toll from the small army seems in nowise to depress the country.

The news from the eastern theater of war was very scant. The German and Austrian reports minimize the importance of the occupation of Lemberg. A Vienna dispatch says the occupation of the city was part of a strategic campaign to draw the Russians into Galicia. Petrograd reports claim that Archduke Frederick's army lost 120,000 men, that the evacuation of Cracow had commenced and that the fall of both Cracow and Przemysl is imminent.

Paris, Sept. 11.—"During the four days' battle," says an official announcement, "the allies have pushed back the Germans thirty-seven miles and taken many prisoners and machine guns."
